

I personally think that the 5 words per minute morse code requirement for Novice or Technician licenses is acceptable but it is not acceptable for Extra Class licenses, which should require at least 13 words per minute. Morse code communication is still the most reliable way to communicate especially in emergency conditions.